

The Warren Reporter

Children's novelist to hold

Friday, May 30, 2008

signing at Greene's BeansHACKETTSTOWN -- Diana Tuorto of Stanhope will hold a book signing party for her newly released children's novel, "Janie's New Legs," from 1-4 p.m. Saturday, June 14 at Greene's Beans Café, 313 High St.

In addition, Greene's Beans Café is hosting a second signing event at their 31 Theatre Center Sparta location from 1-4 p.m. Saturday, July 19.

Both events are free to the public and will feature door prizes, raffles, readings and live music.

"Janie's New Legs," which is appropriate for ages 8-14-plus, will be available for sale for $12. A portion of the proceeds from books sold during these events will benefit Somerset Hills Handicapped Riding Center in Oldwick.

"Janie's New Legs" is the story of Silver, a shy pony, rescued from abuse and neglect, and Janie, a fragile young girl, paralyzed from a car accident. Janie meets Silver at a handicapped riding facility, where she goes to escape the constant confinement of her wheelchair. An extraordinary friendship soon develops and the two gradually begin the road to healing and recovery together.

To learn more about "Janie's New Legs," visit <http://cayuse.8k.com/janie.html> or e-mail Tuorto at lunar_aradia@yahoo.com. For directions, call Greene's Beans Cafe at (908) 979-0022 in Hackettstown or (973) 726-8800 in Sparta.

© 2008 Warren Reporter

© 2008 NJ.com All Rights Reserved.